SUNSHINE IN THE INTERIOR.

We have received by the mail from Mendoza the message of the Governor of that province, printed in a neat pamphlet form, on the occasion of his opening the Legislature for the Session of 1883.

This paper for us is one of the greatest of all surprises; it teaches facts concerning the Interior new to us all, and reveals an administrative progress and economy hitherto unknown in this or any other province, which augurs well for the Republic.

Nothing is more remarkable in River Plate affairs than the sudden improvement of the Interior provinces since General Roca took office. In the pre-Roca period all the progress of the Plate was limited to Buenos Aires. The Provinces were sealed up in Cimmerian darkness, and the only news one ever received, in the weekly or fortnightly mails, was of attempted revolution or successful anarchy; but since President Roca ascended the Presidentive chair, the bonds that held the Interior in the back-ground have been sundered; new railways, coach roads, bridges, telegraphs, and colonies dot the map of almost every province; and, although the opposition press make a howl about the quietness of the Interior and the administration being to their mind more the rule of Intendents than Provincial Governors, we can only say that at no previous period did the Interior present so pleasant a picture of industry, progress and improvement as in the Roca epoch.

If every province of this Republic could show what Mendoza does, how well would it be for the Plate? and yet all that is needed is honesty of purpose and administrative economy. Whoever the Governor of Mendoza is, he merits the praise of the whole nation for his very able year of office. Authority in his hands is a blessing to the people and good example to the nation at large, and we shall watch with some anxiety the opening addresses of other provincial Governors, in order to compare them with this masterly paper now under consideration.

Before this year closes it is probable that the railway will be completed to Mendoza, whose total administrative expenses for the twelve months only reached $ft. 133,815. The Governor began last year with an estimated deficit of some 42,000 pats, yet he so admirably and economically managed administrative affairs, that instead of a deficit he closed the year with a balance to be passed to the current year of $fts. 1991.

Industry in Mendoza is not overtaxed, and hence it is that almost every branch presents a steady and generous development, as will appear by the following tables:—

Exports	1881	1882
Flour, q.q.	86,873	142,017
Wine, bords.	2,711	4,510
Aguardiente id.	20	37
Alfalfa seed q.q.	2,777	4,063
Wool, bales	865	1,062
Total bultos.	116,195	150,010
Do do weight lb.	12,574,591	15,139,123
Carts employed	3,201	4,041
Peones id.	3,744	1,911
Mules id.	18,440	22,883
Oxen id.	1,052	1,088

Every figure in the above tables charms us, there is such a modesty and simplicity in the statistics; nevertheless they show a sound healthy growth which impresses us with the conviction that Mendoza is in good hands, and that in a few years it will become one of our most productive districts. When the railway reaches Mendoza we shall all probably make a trip to that delightful region in order to catch a glimpse of the Andes; it will be perhaps the most pleasurable of all excursions from this city, and as Mendoza has a peculiar richness of her own, and the country people up there are simple and infinitely more industrious than the people of this province, we may look forward to a more rapid development in that quarter, when the railway reaches it, than in perhaps any other of this truly magnificent country.

Mendoza has one great peculiarity, it depends almost entirely on irrigation. It has some very fine rivers, but as it scarcely ever rains up there the lands, to be productive, must be irrigated. It is not wonderful therefore that in this pamphlet before us a whole chapter should be devoted to the all important subject of irrigation. There are, according to the Governor's statement, 115,000 squares of land under irrigation chiefly by canals or sewers made from the rivers Mendoza, Tunuyan and Diamante—16 grand canals carry to the farms the waters of the Mendoza river, 26 idem from the river Tunuyan and 24 from the Diamante. There are besides these 33 small arroyos.

Good estancia land, and even wheat growing land, can be bought to-day in Mendoza for less than 10,000 m/c per league, which beats the Government price in 1878 for the Rio Negro lands. Large properties are offering in this market, in proximity with the railway, and not far from the chief towns and even the city of Mendoza, and the prices asked are from 500 fts. to 1000 pats per league. Many Englishmen have estancias in Mendoza and a very excellent cattle trade is carried on with Chile. The number of novillos exported last year was 14,489, representing an export value of over half a million of gold dollars. The Government of Mendoza pays great attention to its engineers and topographical department, and two new Government canals are to be made this year, which will bring under cultivation close on 20,000 hectares of land.

It is indeed pleasant to see the public moneys spent in such a way. The soil of Mendoza is most peculiar, it will produce anything if watered, but without water it presents an arid dried-up appearance, and there are vast tracts of land, immense travesias without water that remind one of Arabia.

It is all very well for opposition papers to try and make capital for themselves and play on the political prejudices of their readers, with a view to increase their circulation. Every imaginable Provincial evil is charged to President Roca by these ceaseless political fire brands who charge him with ruling the provinces by Intendentes not Governors; but impartial observers will see through all this cloud of political nonsense, and agree with us that at no previous period did the Interior show such signs of National growth and industrial vitality as now. General Roca's name and administration are identified with this progress; before the Roca epoch all was black and blighted in the Interior; to-day all is sunshine and prosperity; a few more years and the Interior will envelop us with its productions. This brilliant Governor's message should be printed in letters of gold, and even in Europe it will be read with high satisfaction by all who take an interest in River Plate affairs.

There is certainly a wondrous improvement in everything in the Interior since President Roca took office, and if in our public land sales we note a new departure since the Roca campaign opened up the country to Nahuel Huapi and freed us from the Indian, so also is there a beneficial change come over the spirit of everything in the Provinces since he liberated them from the thraldom of politicans whose empire has been overthrown by the brilliant success of the present Nat. Government.

NO MORE INDIANS.

THE NAHUEL HUAPI EXPEDITION.

(Our Special Correspondent.)

(Concluded)

But the Indians in front of us are splendidly mounted, and though we continue till late at night, and till our horses are utterly done up, it is to no purpose; and thus we pass the night up in the Cordilleras—nothing to eat, the snow for a bed, and a solitary poncho for a covering.

Next day we began our return and completed it on the following day, the horses being scarcely able to move. We found the rest of the force encamped in a lovely valley. They had secured a large number of prisoners, some 200 horses, 100 cows, and about 800 sheep, besides a quantity of wheat and other things discovered in the "tolderias."

Now the weather had changed, and ever since we have scarcely seen a cloud. The pasture in this valley is of first-class quality, and as the horses and mules were pretty well "baked" we remained here four days—four long, sunny days that I shall not readily forget.

Imagine to yourself a valley some four leagues in length, divided into open spaces by belts of trees of diverse foliage, each open space a lawn dotted here and there with brilliantly blossomed shrubs. In one part the rich scarlet bells of fuchsia and scarcely less lovely cups of the more modern portulacca gleamed like rubies amongst the dark green fronts of a group of maidenhair ferns. Beyond blazed a mass of red azalea, beneath whose friendly shade innumerable mimuli and calceolarias uplifted their golden flowers; in another part, covering the fallen ruins of some gigantic trees, the delicate spirals and tender green leaves of the sarsaparilla formed a rustic trophy. In all parts glitter little rapid streams, and the sweet sound of small foaming cascades fills the air. Nestling amid the emerald grass are myriads of strawberry plants, so abundant that you can scarcely stir without crushing the fragrant fruit beneath your feet. Yes, aromatic strawberries in reckless profusion — strawberries that, growing and imbibing the pure keen zone of the Cordilleras, possess a delicacy and freshness of flavour unknown to the consumers of strawberries in cities, nurtured as the latter are amidst the ordure and garbage with which man vainly attempts to recruit the exhausted soil of his garden, often stifled between four walls. Cream, too, we had in abundance from the milch cows of the Indians — strawberries, cream, and a handful of crisp mountain snow!

Nor were more substantial fruits of the earth wanting; for all around the toldos—which, by the way, are very large and well built, having in many instances plank doors—are numerous quintas and "sembrados," fenced in by huge trees, felled and drawn into line with a savage and primeval disregard of the value of timber quite shocking to the civilized mind.

Nor is irrigation wanting. A rock or two rolled into a little stream, two or three cuts with a spade, and down comes the life-giving current over the sloping fields. In these quintas we found potatoes, carrots, turnips and beans, while the "sembrados" were occupied with wheat and barley. In one case an orchard had been formed, but this seems a work of supererogation, seeing that apples, pears and currants grow in abundance without the aid of man.*

"Feasting is the soldier's pleasure—
Sweet the pleasure,
Rich the treasure—
Sweet is pleasure after pain,"

quoted A. while we were lying in a perfect "dolse far nients" in this Garden of Eden.

Well, after these four halcyon days we resumed work.

The Colonel, with the prisoners and half the force at disposal, returned to head-quarters camp, whilst we, with the remainder, under the direction of Commander Moritan, of the 2nd Battalion, continued to scour the country in a south-westerly direction. We visited the tolderias of Naulquil, Antener, Gervacio, and Neculante, but in each case the owner proved "not at home," nor could we hit upon "rastros" or information which was calculated to elucidate the problem of their present whereabouts.

At length we came across a trail which took us to a hitherto quite unknown lake, and which does not figure in any map up to the present. It runs S W–N E, is some five leagues in length with a varying width of from one league to four or five squares; its Indian name is "Banjeco," and from its extreme eastern point issues the river Quilquihue, a tributary of the Chimechuin. On the north side we found "rastros", but these, instead of Indians, proved to our disappointment to be those of a force under Major Vidal. Leaving him there, we passed to the south, and the following day, after a terrific up-and-down hill road along the "lago," we fell in with a psrty of Indians. At first they seemed likely to effect their escape, horses and all, they being already high up on a densely-wooded hill, and so steep and terrible was the ascent that twice my poor mule came rolling down, the second time the saddle going clean over his tail. However, all ended well, and we succeeded in capturing some Indians. 120 horses and 30 mules. The Cacique Coyla unfortunately effected his escape.

We continued our way along the lake, hoping to find "haciendas," but in vain; and finally, having ascended to a height of 1400 metres, we found ourselves in a "cul-de-sac," and had to retire the same way as we came. The state of the road may be judged from the fact that these three leagues took us 11 hours to accomplish.

That night we were surprised to encounter a commission under Comandante Palacio, of the 3rd Brigade. They also, from information received from a prisoner, were on their way to Banjeco to look after the Casique Coyla, and having seen our fires, made sure they were those of the aforesaid Cacique, and were in high spirits at the "golpe" they imagined they were about to inflict. As may well be expected, their chagrin and disappointment was not small, seeing they had marched about 80 leagues for nothing.

Horses being now nearly worn out, and the men suffering much from dysentery and diarrhœa, by easy marches we proceeded via the valley of Chapello and thence that of the Quenquentren, towards our camp on the Catapuliche, which we reached without mishap on the night of January 1st, 1883.

Happy New Year to you and yours.

Yours truly,

George Bröndsted.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

GENERAL NEWS.

January 19, 1883.

The inquest on the late Dr. Edwardes was concluded yesterday, the fifth day of the inquiry. After an absence of one hour and five minutes the jury returned and delivered a verdict —"That on the 27th day of December the said William Whitfield Edwardes did die from the mortal effects of prussic acid, administered by his own hand during temporary insanity, and they desire to express their opinion emphatically that he was driven to his death by the pressure brought to bear by his partner, Dr. William Michael Whitmarsh, using the false charge of Mrs. Rose Bignell as a means to drive him to a dishonourable dissolution of partnership."

The verdict comprises the instinctive judgment of the populace of Hounslow, and is approved generally by the press this morning. There is no doubt as to the meanness and cupidity of Dr. Whitmarsh. His own statement, occupying a column and a-half of the Telegraph of yesterday, is a remarkable exposure of the monetary operations of a medical practice of 21 years. He tells us that his family have been doctors for 300 years, and that "tablets from the top of the chancel to the bottom in old Wilton church, will show that I belong to an old and esteemed family." But the blue blood in course of centuries must have become contaminated with drugs, for his mere self-confessed business operations are not those of a well-bred person, and his behaviour, in regard to Edwardes, was inhuman in its rapaciousness. On the other hand, a doubt still exists as to what absolutely took place between Edwardes and Mrs. Bignell, notwithstanding the admitted antecedents of that lady. Although she was loose in conduct and subject to hysteria, it is evident that the unfortunate man Edwardes was a weak mortal, and he may have tenderly and half unconsciously given just sufficient cause for an accusatiou we all believe in the main untrue.

The manifesto and subsequent arrest of Prince Napoleon pay a high compliment to the just departed statesman whose mere presence seems to have held political parties in France in solution. The moment Gambetta is gone the constituent elements assert themselves, and, in the case of Prince Napoleon, in the most ill-judged and ludicrous shape. His only excuse is, that he endeavoured to steal a march on the Comte de Chambord, who, it had been anticipated for some days previously, was about to issue a similar proclamation of his desire to save France from the irreligion, immorality, bankruptcy and loss of prestige which now characterised the reign of the Republic.

Unhappily, the French authorities, as is their wont under sudden excitement, have taken the Prince and his manifesto too seriously. A fussy, vain little politician of the Left, M. Floquet, has complicated matters by proposing in the Chamber that to get rid of these daily paradings of the manifestoes of Pretenders, French territory, Algeria and the Colonies, should be prohibited to all members of families which have reigned in France. Only 111 deputies, one-fifth of the Chamber, have, so far, signed M. Floquet's motion, but it is supported by the Gambettists and also by M. Clemenceaux. The discussion on the motion has been wisely postponed until next week. In the meantime, it is to be hoped the excitement will pass away, and, in the interval, the Prince and his manifesto will be ridiculed into oblivion by the opposing section of the Bonapartist faction, headed by M. de Cassagnac. What may give to Prince Napoleon's arrest additional importance is the possibility of his suspicion being true that the Legitimists, under the leadership of M. de Charette, were organising a very serious political movement, under the banner of what they call the Catholic Alliance. In that case, the French Government is bound to take the most stringent measures against all dynastic pretensions, active or passive.

Messrs. Davitt and Healy appeared yesterday at the Court of Queen's Bench, in Dublin, to show cause why they should not give bail for their offensive speeches. They undertook their own defence. The bench postponed judgment until it had time to read over carefully the affidavits. Messrs. Davitt and Healy may undergo some mild species of martyrdom, and no one will be the better or worse for it. How much better they manage these things in America, where Herr Most is allowed to indulge his lunacy in recommending the slaying of the upper crust in general, and people only laugh at him and equally at Prince Bismarck, for whom our Court and our court-jester, Sir William Harcourt, have a too sensitive regard.

Marwood seems to be busy in Ireland. He is now in Tralee, and hangs two more men to-morrow, Puff and Barrett. As Justice Lawson has just reminded his Irish friends, the law is not now broken with impunity, and now that juries convict, Puff or any one else will pay the penalty of his murderous propensities.

The Daily News of this morning publishes a sensational account of a man in delirium at a Dublin hospital, who drivelled of murder he had committed, and who let himself down from the hospital window to escape, as he said, from the pursuit of the police. Being an athletic-looking man, with an Irish-American look, he was, of course, put down at once as one of the Phœnix Park assassins. A Press Association telegram from Dublin this evening contradicts the whole tale on behalf of the authorities.

The rumoured conspiracy to assasinate the Viceroy is also denied. The recent raid of police and Marines has not yet come to anything.

Archdeacon Lewis has accepted the Bishopric of Llandaff, and the Rev. Canon Wilkinson, of St. Peter's, Eaton-square, that of Truro. The latter appointment appears to be popular, but Lewis is an uncomprising priest and bitter against modernism and secular authority.

Speaking at Exeter-Hall last night General Booth said that recently in London Dr. Benson called on him requesting information as to the Army and its method of working, and, as far as he could gather, the Archbishop's definite views were that the Salvation Army should continue the good work of getting at the masses of the people. Dr. Benson would like them to do it as much as possible in harmony with the Church of England, but how that was to be accomplished was a matter for consideration. He believed that the Home Secretary would do all that was just and fair towards them.

This obsequious patronage of the Salvationists, by the prelates, exhibits a form of political pandering, and would almost indicate that the church is in extremis, and arrived at picking the bedclothes or catching at straws. Whilst Dr. Benson flirts with the Salvation Army, Dr. Jackson in London, and Dr. Fraser in Manchester, are, in their respective ways, demonstrating the divisions in the church itself. It is very doubtful if Dr. Fraser, in loyally assserting the law in one direction, is not transgressing it in another, for assuming reasons for not instituting Mr. Congill, who is otherwise a lawful pretendant and duly presented. And the ludicrous spectacle is before us of the Bishop of Manchester refusing to institute Mr. Congill as Mr. Green's successor at Miles-Platting, whilst the Bishop of London in the Southern Province, has gone out of his way to find a living for Mr. Mackonochie, or what is the same thing, he has assented to Mr. Mackonochie's exchange of St. Alban's for St. Peter's.

As there may still be some old gentlemen in Buenos Aires who think English Radicalism is confined to rowdies, I commend to their attention the following opinions, just delivered by Mr. Arnold Toynbee, senior bursar and lecturer on Political Economy at Baliol College, Oxford. Whilst dissenting from Mr. George's theory of nationalising the land, a theory, he confessed, was founded on the theories of Mill and Ricardo, and whilst dissenting on certain points from these economists also Mr. Toynbee did not think that the mere confiscation of 60 millions of rent would be worth the price it might induce to civilisation, but he said what was wanted was co-operation in work and production, free trade in land, accompanied by sweeping and necessary political changes, such as the abolition of the House of Lords, the establishment of county boards, the abolition of game laws and the removal of all privileges which at present induced men to buy land for the political influence it brought them.

ROSARIO.

February 16th

In conversation the other day with a public personage of some standing in the country, he remarked that the three great ports of the future in the Argentine Republic were Ensenada, Rosario and Bahia Blanca; and the Capital would become, within a couple of scores of years' an inland town. No one can doubt that Bahia Blanca, the best port on the Atlantic side of South America, with the exception of Rio Janeyro, will eventually be populous with vessels from all parts of the world; and that Rosario, the head of river navigation for the largest class of vessels, and the focus towards which centres the interior net of railways, with a large and safe anchorage, will in time become one of the busiest ports in the South American Continent. As to the Ensenada swamping Buenos Aires as a port, it is, to say the least of it, very problematical. When a city reaches the commercial status, the wealth and social importance that Buenos Aires can boast of, it is not probable the people will lazily allow a neighboring locality to place them in the background. They have one of the largest rivers in the world in front. There is no lack of the principal element for a port, water; and if fifty or a hundred millions are required, I expect the money would be forthcoming.

The rapid development of trade in the city and port of Rosario within the last few years warrants the assumption of a future progress that will soon give it a conspicuous place amongst the commercial ports of the world. Leaving aside the agricultural surplus for exportation of wheat, maize, flaxseed and hay (of the latter alone was exported above 12,000 tons within the last year), of the Province of Santa Fé, if we look on the great increase of trade with the Interior, as is demonstrated by the business of the Central Argentine Railway, we must be struck with the conviction of the future grandeur of our port. It is only a very short time ago that our daily through-train amply sufficed for the wants of the commercial and travelling community. Now the personel of the Railway are taxed to their utmost in despatching three or four and even more every day. It is true the materials for the Government lines in construction make a large addition to the traffic, but the Bolivian trade, the development of sugar, rum, tobacco and wine manufacture, naturally augmenting the demand for European goods of all descriptions, is what has principally incensed the traffic. On the line reaching Mendoza, the minerals of that Province will be embarked in the port of Rosario.

When Lamport and Holt placed a monthly steamer between Liverpool and Rosario, with the intention of filling up a return cargo partly in this port and partly in San Nicolas and Buenos Aires, the experiment was considered a ticklish one. Now it is rare that we have not four a month of that famous line, besides the vessels of the Chargeurs Réunis and other Companies. Captain Ferguson, Messrs. Lamport and Holt's energetic agent in Rosario, tells me that not only does the trade now require four steamers per month, but that he will fill them up here, so that the firm probably will have to send extra ships to San Nicolas. A little while ago Mr. Ferguson fitted up one of his steamers with two thousand tons of freight in four days and-a-half, and that although the National Government has shamefully neglected to build the wharves and port works so much required. The Hogarth has just filled up here too, taking, amongst other cargo, to the value of half a million of dollars in silver. I enclose list of her cargo.

A autre chose.

We are to have trials by Jury in Rosario. Mr. Pizarro's Press Law, in the reign of Bayo, was made about as harsh as he dared to make it. In those days the authorities were mortally afraid of the press. In latter days they do not pay the slightest attention to it. Their hides have become as tough as that of a rhinoceros. A Mr. Carrazco, who has seceded from the party in power, has lately occupied himself in disclosing the secrets of the charnel house, that is to say the doings of the Santa Fé Administrations. They look very nasty on paper. Amongst other things he denounced was the fact that the present Gefe Politico of this Department is at the same time the principal owner of the Lottery in Rosario, a gambling institution expressly prohibited by, not only the Police Laws, but the Constitution of the Province. Mr. Carrazco uses pretty strong language, and the gefe has brought him before the Jurado de Imprenta. In the meantime the Government paper, the Independiente, published against Mr. Carrazco one of the most scurrilous articles it was ever my bad fortune to read. Carrazco of course demands reparation on his side. It is said the article in question was written by the Gefe Politico himself. However, the Independiente fathers it.

It is only offences of the press that are decided by Juries, and the procedure is almost as summary as that of a Turkish Cadi. The general list of eligible jurors is concocted by the Government, yearly, who has thus the power to name a large majority of its adherents. The Criminal Judge forms by lot something similar to our Grand Jury. This body decides if there be sufficient cause for a "true bill" to be found; if not the case goes no farther. If a true bill be found, then the Judge forms what is our petty Jury, though not so numerous, and the case is tried verbally, as in our Courts. In both the cases cited the Grand Juries have found true bills. In a day or two we will know the result. Of course the situacionistas will move heaven and earth to have the renegade from their ranks chastised.

The Message of the Governor of Mendoza proves the satisfactory fact that in one Province at least there is an honest and economical administration. Mendoza has a population of about 90 thousand inhabitants, and expends money on public works, such as irrigation works, the penitentiary etc. It has no public debt of any consequence; its public schools are numerous and well attended to, and there is a surplus for contingencies; and this is done on a revenue of less than 135,000 dollars. In Santa Fé with less than double the population (160,000), the revenue is upwards of 700,000 dols., no public works of any kind, education neglected, and a debt of at least a couple of millions, the interest of which is not paid. "Look on this picture and on that!"

I am happy to welcome back to the Plate two most estimable North American 'protagonistas.' Miss Chappin and Miss Denning, for some years managed an excellent school in Rosario and their loss was much felt. If their intention is to re-open their old scholastic institution in Rosario, I can promise them a hearty welcome and abundance of pupils in this, the old field of their labours, where they were so meritedly appreciated.

I am under obligations to your courteous correspondent, Mr. Octavio Rossi, for the interesting item of information he gives in answer to a question I asked in reference to who made the first shipment of wheat from the River Plate. As Mr. Rossi remembers so well the shipment by D. Pablo Arramburu, in 1850, had Mr. Latham made the shipments alluded to in my letter, it would seem natural that Mr. Rossi would have also remembered them; and as no one has come forward to confirm the information I received, I think we might place it in quarantine until it be confirmed, notwsthstanding the apparent exactness of the details given me. The subject is of sufficient interest to induce any one who possesses information bearing on it to come forward, like Mr. Rossi, and give it.

There are two reasons why we don't trust a man—one because we don't known, him, and the other because we do.

(COMMUNICATED BY TELEPHONE ON SATURDAY 11·30 P.M.)

Ah! Is it you Mr William? All right! Now, put down what I tell you Don't forget the punctuation; you can make as many commas as you like, and every time that my lungs, which have suffered from dancing, don't allow me to continue, there is a full stop.

Mr High Life and his wife did not venture to go to last year's ball, since the words masked-ball have a different signification in these latitudes to what they have in Europe.

After the brilliant success of last year, however, everybody was anxious to get his 'disfraz' in order, and here we are now in the middle of the thronged hall of the Turnverein, surrounded by at least 200 ladies and gentlemen.

There are only few dress coats; all the rest have splendid costumes taken from all ages and from all spheres of society, from the marquis to the peasant, from goddesses and queens to the fashionable lady of our Calle Florida. Knights in black 'á la Philip II,' sailors, musketeers, a shepherd, a Turk, two Poles; fancy dresses taken from the 'figurantes' of the principal operas &c.

To describe the ladies would increase still the excited state in which I am, and make me unfit for the supper, so we had better leave this for to-morrow. Here is a full stop.

The great difference between the native masquerades and these costume balls is not only the circumstance that the domino is much less in use, but the jolliest item and which affords the most fun to ladies and gentlemen, is that the latter wear masks also. At 12 or 1 o'clock the masks are taken off, when supper will be served in one of those side halls which measure about 150 feet in length each and which are generally used for playing at nine pins. The opposite side hall contains the wardrobes for ladies and gentlemen.

It is just as if you were removed to a fairy land, and the most beautiful of the maskers, (that one there with the powdered hair) is the Fairy Queen.

Just fancy more than a hundred ladies surrounding me, who all want to make out who I am, or who, mistaking me for their own sweetheart, are courting me as much as the mask liberty allows.

I am shuddering at the approach of the moment when I shall have to take off my mask. I fear all these beauties will not pay any more attention to me, when they find out that I am 'un viejo cascote.' If you want to feel twenty years younger for some hours, go to a masked ball like this.

But what is that? I got a slight blow with the whip of a fair Diana who is passing by in whirling rapidity in the arms of a young fisherman. Can you explain why there is no goddess of the fish in the mythology? I suppose it is because they have too cold blood to make any interest with the fair sex.

I entered the brilliantly illuminated garden at a little past ten o'clock; the gas light had a magical effect on the fountain which stands in front of the gate amidst some fan-palms and other plants.

Some members of the sub-committee dressed in white, like cooks, led me to the wardrobe; there I met a well-known broker; the natives would call him 'un mozo alto, muy rubio', he wore no mask but was in full dress, viz.: an immense swallow-tail. I asked him in English whether he had no sheep on sale at 5 m/c each; he smiled, although not very gently, and after a moment's reflection wrote the initials of my name with his finger on my hand.

But stop, I forgot to tell you an incident which happened to me. From the carriage which followed mine, first a gentleman alighted and then a lady and—here I saw what I never saw before—one moment I thought I saw two ladies and at last I found out it was only one, but, one side of her dress was of violet satin and the other one of velvet, she also had one velvet shoe and a satin one. This must have produced the optical deception.

After this I shook hands with our worthy ex-president, who wore, like last year, a beautiful blue dress coat 'á la Louis X.V,' powdered wig &c. I said to him. You are the man whose energy we have to thank for the first and as a consequence this second masked ball. He bowed, but did not know me.

Suddenly I perceived a general rush to the hall, which was floored with nice boards for the occasion of last year's ball, and has now received a ceiling too. The band had just given the sign for the beginning of dancing, and I hastened to engage a lady, but before I had time to make my choice, I stood quite alone amidst the couples; no lady was left in the wide circle; I felt like an orphan child whose parents have both died before his birth, and then went to that part of the saloon where half-a-dozen of sofas are placed for elderly ladies and those who do not dance.

These ladies are generally supposed to be married, and for that reason I asked the first one I met (she wears a rose dress, white flowers in her hair, and a white mask) whether her husband was here too, since he was a particular friend of mine, (This was a random shot,) whereupon she answered 'yes,' and I asked her further, to enliven the conversation a little: 'how many children have you got now?'

Then she sighed and said: "Alas, we are married for six years, and have none."

I hastened to console the poor lady, and it was really with no bad intention, on the contrary, pity put the word into my mouth when I answered: "don't be sorry for that: your case is not the only one. I know in fact, there are many examples, and sometimes it is hereditary, so it was for instance in the family of my grandmother."

I felt that I blushed under the mask, having told an untruth, but since she did not know who I was, how could she have proved the contrary to me?

Without saying a word—comma,—here she rose from her seat and left me thinking that even under a mask it is always better to speak the truth—Full stop.—This was shocking.

After this second disappointment I mixed with the dancers to catch somewhat of their conversation and thus found myself at the side of a lady who represented the Fair Maid of Perth. My curiosity was excited to know whether she was really English or only an imitation.

Her companion, a nobleman of the Middle Ages, in hunting dress, spoke to her in English and she played her role well, answering to the point with a somewhat Eastern Midland accent, but, after a while, he said to her: "You are a little selfish," on which she turned round and said in an angry tone: "a Vd. yo hé tomado siempre por un bacalao viejo!" The word selfish was too much for her, since she had never studied ichthyology. I thought "cuidado con el engaño," you are neither from Scotland nor Heligoland, and turning my eyes to the other side of the saloon I saw to my surprise—What do you say? Mr. Power says it will be too late for press. Well, then good night, tell the telephone clerk we do not want him any longer.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The South is coming to the front rapidly, in town and camp. The two B's —the Boca and Bahia Blanca (perhaps we should say the three B's) are the most promising places in the Republic at present. Read the splendid letter 'From the South' in yesterday's Nacion. It is too long for our columns, or we would translate it. One of our most enterprising public men, whose interests are not in the South, declared yesterday that all the products of that region—from wheat to maize, from cows to cabbages, from sheep to salad, and from pea-nuts to potatoes—are far finer than those of any other part of the Republic. Some few years ago we first cried "Southwards Ho!" and every day that passes confirms the accuracy of our predictions.

A High Life party leaves town early this morning on a 'paseo' to see the iron-clad Admiral Brown, at Ensenada. This visit is probably the prelude to a 'hop' on board before the summer is over.

A telephonic account of the grand Fancy Ball last night at the German Club will be found in another column. The 'fiesta' was so grand that we doubly regret that duty kept us at the wrong end of the telephone.

We beg one thousand pardons, and have no objection to throwing in another 500, of the Argentine Yacht Club for the introduction of the word "smuggling" in a paragraph referring to it in yesterday's issue. We certainly put a wrong interpretation on the clause providing a fine for those who use their yachts for commercial purposes. We are far from supposing that any member of the Club could be guilty of even smoking a smuggled cigar, so beg another 500 pardons, which makes a round 2000. In Europe the Revenue officers by no means consider private yachts as above suspicion. The question is, if any of the A. Y. C. yachts go down South and raise a few of Mr Younger's 200 pianos from the bottom of S. B. Bay, will the owner have to pay both duty and fine when passing them through the Custom House here?

We hear it has rained tremendously in the South, and general jubilee prevails. We bespeak the Clerk of the Weather's favours for the North and West now, as they are in a very bad way for want of 'agua.'

A Calcutta colleague says:—

"The irrepressible Salvationists treated the "great unwashed" to a grand "march out" on Monday evening. For the first, and we believe, last time, the big drum was introduced with marvellous effect, the skilful manipulation of which considerably startled the Mahomedan camp "pitched" in close proximity to the Salvationist. By the departure of the contigent to fairer and happier (pecuniary) hunting grounds, Calcutta may be congratulated upon a very happy deliverance. While touching upon this subject, it may not be amiss to mention that the marriage of "General" Booth's son and heir—the latter substantive ought to be a sufficiently substantial one—is worthy of a passing note. Towards the close of the ceremony, the salvation army leader sent round the hat for a friendly "gathering" for the bridegroom. We know a good many persons in India who would be glad to commit matrimony on the same terms."

We are requested by Mr. John Samson to correct a paragraph regarding him which appeared in this place yesterday. We stated that he was a candidate for Municipal honours, whereas, in fact, such is not the case. Our mistake arose from seeing his name amongst the list of commissioners appointed for each parish by the Club Industrial, as it is well known that that body is taking an active part in endeavouring to get all parties engaged in business or industry to enrol themselves as voters, so as to obtain the election of a thoroughly practical Municipality, to the exclusion of politicians. In order to secure this, several gentlemen have been appointed in each parish to call on their fellow members of the club, and Mr. Samson's name is found in the parish of Socorro along with Messrs. Bieckhert and Zamboni.

We are requested to state that the offertories in the Flores chapel to-day will be on behalf of the church in the Alexandra Colony, Gran Chaco.

There is a splendid chance to-day for people who want to get superb furniture at a moderate price. Messrs. Ebbeke and Dicklemann will sell off by auction, without reserve, all Mr. Hill's beautiful walnut furniture, all new. There is a magnificent Pleyel piano in the lot. Full details in our advertizing columns.

The Union Francaise refers to the splendid passage made by the Gironde (25 days from Bordeaux to Buenos Aires, including stoppage at 6 ports) and has a mild indirect sneer at the snail's pace of some English steamers on the Plate route. It tallies unpleasantly with "Merchant's" letter the other day, and the sooner our companies go in for more coals and higher speed the better for themselves and the travelling public. The same paper gives a most laughable imaginary interview between President Roca and Archbishop Aneiros.

Robbers entered Mr Methven's Quinta, in San José de Flores, on Thursday morning, burst the stable gate padlock and stole three horses, two carriage and one riding, a light spring cart laden with alfalfa, harness for same, and sundry garden implements. One of the horses, on the stableman getting up, was found standing outside the gate, which the robbers had closed on leaving, with his halter broken, leading one to suppose he had broken away from them in some manner. The cart-wheels track was followed and it was found that the robbers had stopped at Dn. Santiago Torres' Quinta bored a hole in the coach-house wall facing the road, but evidently finding this too laborious, it being a a double one, they went round and forced the lock of the door, taking away two complete sets of carriage harness, a lady's saddle, and sundry bridles &c. The police were advised of above and assisted in tracing the cart to the Once, but nothing further is known.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

Half the High Life of the metropolis will go to Flores to-day to witness the consecration of the new Church at Flores, the handsomest building of the kind in the whole republic. It cost 4 millions m/c, and many Protestant residents of Flores generously contributed to it. Signor Lombardo is the architect. An idea of the size of the church may be formed from the fact that it has 9 altars. There are no fewer than 30 pillars of Belgian black marble, with the names of the pious donors inscribed on each. The Archbishop, the Papal Nuncio, the Dean and Chapter, all the parish priests in the city, and the secular and regular clergy will be present at to-day's ceremony, which begins at 11 o'clock. Governor Rocha and Mrs. Dorrego de Miro are the 'padrinos.' The streets of Flores are all gaily decorated for the occasion, and there will be splendid fireworks and illuminations at night.

We are requested to make enquiries as to the present whereabout of Mr. Anthony, formerly employed by the firm of Marshall and Co., and will feel obliged for any information concerning him.

The Colon Theatre is being splendidly titivated and re-decorated for the coming season, but, alas! the divine Stagno has refused to come, so has Teodorini, so have others, and there is some difficulty in picking up a good artists to replace them. Gayarre, now the Boss Tenor of Creation, asks £320 per night to come to the Plate.

February 17th, 1883

Patacon	25.01
Cedulas E	84½
National Bank Shares	105½

There was much more activity in the gold market this morning, and large amounts of gold were freely offered during official hours. About one hundred thousand patacons were sold at 25.01 and much more offering.

Speculation in Cedulas is rising steadily, and the stock ruled this morning in great demand for the end of the month and March, April and May. Over $100,000 of Series E were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 84¾, rose to 85 and closed at the opening rate. Fifty thousand were sold for the end of March at 85¾ and 85½, whilst thirty thousand pats. changed hands for April at 85½, and $20,000 for the end of May at 85¾. Over $230,000 Cedulas were sold during official hours. There appear to be many fresh orders in the market, and many are securing the stock both as an investment and as a speculative paper. The demand for long dates is quite remarkable and has given much activity to the market.

National Bank Shares opened very firm this morning, and the market offered a very bullish aspect. There is a firm foundation to the stock, which arises from causes quite independent of the speculation at the ring. Over $1,600,000 of small notes of the Bank are already circulating and the accounts of the Bank's working during last month are most satisfactory; the profits of the month are calculated at $200,000. The business of the Bank is increasing daily both in Buenos Aires, where operations are assuming unprecedented proportions, and in the Interior. The situation of the market is essentially bullish, and prices look upwards.

Over 300 shares were sold for cash at 105¼ and 105½, closing price. Speculation for the end of the month embraced over 1,000 shares; rates opened at 105⅝, fell slightly and closed at 105½. Six hundred shares were sold for the end of March cum dividend at 107½ and 107, and fifty shares ex dividend at 102¼. Operations during official hours exceeded 2,000 shares. Although the market rules firm there is little activity in the speculation. Several outsiders are securing the stock in small lots, but operations rule limited in view of the reluctance of holders of the stock to let go. The men who hold shares are able to carry them, and although important numbers are in the hands of speculators, the bulk has been taken up by the investing public. The shares at the current rates represent par, and there is no better investment in the market at this rate.

Large quantities of wheat arrive daily from the camp and the grain from the Southern parts of this Province is attracting special attention. Due to a fine and uniform quality it is classified higher than grain from the North and, strange to say, the colza, linseed and other agricultural products from the South shew an undeniable superiority over products from the Northern camps. Wheat rules weaker owing to the heavy arrivals, but the candeal qualities are in steady demand at exceptional prices. Although the harvest of the season must necessarily be the largest ever reaped in the Republic, prices shew no great change in the markets and little is done for export.

There is a general clamor for rain in the camp, and many hope that the heavy downpour in the far South will travel to the North. The "chacareros" look on their parched maize fields with misgivings. Rain at the present moment represents millions in the eyes of maize-men, sheepfarmers and estancieros.

Some Chilian bills were passed to-day by the National Bank at 4⅝; many exchange brokers say that very few bills are offering in the market and exchange looks dull.

In discount circles a large discount for 500,000 pats on Cedulas made by one of the Banks yesterday, payable in gold, was the subject of conversation; the rate charged was 7 per cent; this is one of the largest discount operations we have heard of for some time. It is really very remarkable the great demand for money which exists in the market; most people attribute it to land purchases. The Provincial and National Banks let go at last 20 millions currency per week, still it is not enough. One of our private Banks does a very large business still in discounts, but as a rule, the other banks are very restricted.

Another important land sale, 12 square leagues of land, near Puan, at 50,000 $ per league; an English buyer.

Exchange brokers report bills house upon house done to-day at 49⅝.

The National Bank, they said on 'Change, has postponed its regular discounts till Monday.

Fifty thousand Cedulas Series E sold on 'Change and not marked on the board, cash at 84¾; a stiff speculation on time springing up in this stock, holders expect to get 90 in a few months.

Mr. O. Farrell, one of the leading money brokers of Montevideo, was welcomed on 'Change, he leaves to-night for the Mount.

The news from the far South is good; it has rained in torrents down by the Rio Negro, and all the camps and stock are in prime condition.

The note of Sr Uriburu, Acting Chairman of the Provincial Bank, was much talked of on 'Change. Mr Uriburu always has the market with him, and his views respecting the renewal of bills falling due at the Provincial Bank are considered solid and good. Discount brokers say that many of the 'vencimientos' falling due at the Bank are renewed in full, and nothing paid for amortization, and it is in view of the great increase in this line, that Mr Uriburu in behalf of the Bank interests has been obliged to take action in the matter. Formerly debtors to the Bank paid either 10½ or 5 per cent every 90 days for amortization, but not even 5 per cent is now paid by a certain class of bank debtors, which shows clearly an undue expansion of credit; this gives rise to conversation, and we all know that conversation is the enemy of credit.

National Bank shareholders should apply to the Secretary of the Bank for voting papers for meeting of 23rd inst. Tuesday will be the last day to deposit the shares. The business is already attracting notice in the market, and some old friends on 'Change stand as candidates for the new board.

The petition to Government for a small subsidy to a diligence running between Bahia Blanca and Patagones meets with the warmest support of all that portion of the market interested in Southern camps. The move is a capital one, and goes to show how the South country is waking up and coming to the front.

We hear that in the Bahia Blanca district there are so many capones and novillos offering for sale, and so few buyers, that one party intends to erect down there this winter a graseria and another party a saladero.

The news in the market is that application is made to the National Bank to make the coupons on the National Bonds held by the National Bank payable in London—a most desirable scheme, indeed. We think if it would in any way help the Share Market to make the coupons payable in Japan, the change ought to be made, as we have quite enough coupons payable in this market for the capital seeking investment.

Cedulas—
For cash E 22,300 at 84⅜-⅝-¾
For Feb. 28th E 110,000 at 84¾-85-84½
For March 31st E 50,000 at 85¼-⅜-½

El Lunes 19 de Febrero
A las 3 de la tarde

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y condiciones ventajosas de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alveal (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez, Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de Clark, el proyectado ramal del F. C. del O. desde el Pergamino al Rio 4° y el Oeste Santafesino. Estos campos lindan con los famosos y conocidos del Venado Tuerto y con estancias, como la de los Sres Ostendorp y Ca., Diego Alvear, heredero de Armstrong y otros.

Los campos que acaba de vender el Gobierno de la Provincia a 400,000 $|_{m}$ estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se esten construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a vencerse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus pastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede toma la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de 1|2 (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lotes seran vendidos sin reserva de ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o|o de interes. Los planos de estos campos podran obtenerse del 20 del corriente Febrero en adelante ocurriendo a casa del Sr D. Eduardo Casey num. 80, o a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and as an no other than Dr Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescribe and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
